

Encouraging and supporting your dyslexic child with writing at home

Do you want to improve your dyslexic child's confidence with writing? Do you find they often have great ideas that they can share with you verbally, but struggle to get these down on paper? Would you like ideas for how you can support your child with writing at home?

Join Dyslexia Sparks' FREE online support session on encouraging and supporting your dyslexic child with writing – Thursday 12th May 1.30 to 2.30pm.

Writing for dyslexic children is very often a difficult task. Join Jane Craig, Founding Director, Specialist Teacher and Assessor at Dyslexia Sparks who will draw upon her experience within the fields of psychology, specialist teaching and dyslexia to help you develop your ability to support your child with their writing.

This session will:

- help you to understand why your child might find writing difficult
- explore ideas for supporting and encouraging writing at home
- focus on making the most of your child's creative side.

Places are free but limited and must be booked in advance. For further details and to book, please visit our Eventbrite page or contact us directly at nicola.markham@dyslexia-sparks.org.uk. A recording of the session will be sent to all registered attendees after the event so even if you can't join us live you can catch up later.

Dyslexia Sparks is Hull and East Yorkshire's only registered charity for dyslexia. The session is held as part of our free, monthly online parent support group which often features key topics and guest speakers.
